Libraries empower people and communities to pursue the activities of human flourishing. We are very proud of the work we do at the Pawling Library, but even more so we are proud of our community and the way its members use the resources available through the library to improve their own lives and the lives of those around them.

It is a joy to watch people enrolled in our English for Speakers of Other Languages classes grow in their confidence speaking to others in English. Likewise, it’s always heartening to learn that someone who signed up for resume help through a Job Ready session went out and landed a job. We also have the privilege of seeing children who started coming to library programs in infancy blossom into self-sufficient and enthusiastic readers.

So much of the benefit of the library, though, lies hidden below the surface. We don’t always hear from someone who checked out a book that changed his or her life. Plus, with downloadable eBooks and audiobooks, you can use the library without ever directly interacting with the library staff.

Just as each member of the community is growing and changing, so too is the library. We’ve been purchasing more documentaries, eBooks, and graphic novels, for instance, to reflect the changing interests of library users. Our physical building will be changing this summer when we add additional computers for quiet use and enclose a dedicated teen area of the library. As always, the list of programs and events we offer changes based on what people have responded to in the past and requested for the future. On page 3 of this mailing, you will learn about another change: the launch of our Growing Together campaign to improve our funding starting in 2019.

As our recent community survey revealed, Pawling has a strong appreciation of its library and a lot of great ideas for what we can do together in the future. Thank you for the support you provide that allows us to continue to grow together as a library and as a community. We are looking forward to this summer’s events and to the opportunity to continue to serve the community of Pawling.

Sincerely,

Brian Avery, Library Director
Stephanie McLaughlin, Board President

“•The library is not a luxury. It’s a communal necessity for so many reasons in so many seasons of life... Ours, its capable staff and faithful board are gems! We have the staff, the programs, the patrons and the need.”

2017 was a very busy year for the Pawling Library. We had over 65,000 visits to our library and over 125,000 visits to our website. Those people weren’t all just dropping by to say hello; they were using the library in both traditional and not-so-traditional ways.

In our building we have approximately 24,000 books and 3,000 movies and other circulating materials. Plus, we share items with the 66 libraries of the Mid-Hudson Library System, giving us access to over 3.2 million total items.

Besides print materials, we also offer eBooks and downloadable audiobooks you can access from anywhere using your library card with Overdrive! Given that we also offer homebound delivery of printed materials, we really can say that you don’t need to come in person to the library building in order to take advantage of the many resources the library has to offer.

Of course, we do get a lot of visitors to the library - and not just from people looking to check out books. Last year we offered 274 programs for young adults, 363 for adults, and 399 for children. Plus, use of our public internet computers went up by 69% in 2017 alone! From museum passes to online car repair manuals, we do our best to provide a wide range of resources which reflects the diversity of ways our community uses information.

We encourage you to reach out to us about how you would like to use your library, and we look forward to counting you among all those who enjoy the myriad ways in which our library serves Pawling’s community life.

Nine years ago, the Pawling Library adopted the slogan “Come Grow With Us”. Over the years, we have been growing in tandem with the community in an effort to better reflect the needs and interests of Pawling residents. This November, the library will be asking the citizens of Pawling for something that hasn’t been asked for in nearly a decade. The library is in need of additional dollars to offset our gradual rise in operating expenses and we are hoping that voters will approve a small increase to the municipal budget appropriation under Chapter 414 of New York State education law. The proposed increase of 15% is in line with cumulative inflation rates since 2009. What this means for each household is an additional $11.44 for each $100,000 of assessed home valuation. What this means for the library is an ability to meet ever increasing community expectations by providing both physical and digital materials, programs and events, physical space, and computers that reflect Pawling’s current and future needs. The funds will also help us keep pace with the inflationary costs of salaries and healthcare premiums.

A public library improves the value of community life and enhances property values. Libraries provide everyone the opportunity for life-long learning. They support literacy, help people improve job skills, preserve a community’s history and provide a wealth of resources and information. The Pawling Library is the very heart of our community, where members of all ages and all backgrounds have come more than 65,000 times this year to learn, share and grow.

Without your approval, the library will be required to adjust services, including reducing the range of programs and events it offers and limiting purchasing of new materials and equipment. This November, we hope that the Pawling community will join the other sixteen of the nineteen towns in Dutchess County that support their libraries through Proposition 414, and approve the funding that will preserve the many services on which we have all come to depend and enjoy.

If you have any questions about the library’s funding or the ballot initiative, check out our frequently asked questions page at https://www.pawlingfreelibrary.org/growingtogether/ballotcampaign/

When summer arrives, so does the looming threat of decreases in academic achievement. Research shows that students who do not read over the summer demonstrate significant academic loss in the fall. It’s called the “summer slide.” And contrary to popular belief, the summer slide does not just affect reading ability. The same, if not larger losses are also likely in math and science as well. Even more distressing is the fact that these losses are cumulative. By the end of 6th grade, children who have never read over the summer are up to two years behind other children.

Together, we can prevent the summer slide. Families one and all are welcome to pick up a booklet and join the Reading Rocks Summer Challenge. From June 23 through August 17, families are invited to join a new kind of summer reading. Pick up a summer reading booklet and earn weekly prizes designed to fend off the summer slide, including at-home science kits, literacy games, library fine forgiveness certificates, forever books, and more.

Here are some other great ways to beat the summer slide:

- Model reading! Show your child that you enjoy and value reading, so they should too.
- Do Mad-Libs together
- Create some no TV or electronic game times each day.
- Visit the library regularly this summer for new books.
- Talk about what you read with your child(ren)
- Read on the go – ask your child to read your shopping list or look for letters on signs in the car to keep their brains churning at all times.

Children’s Program Registration
Our lottery registration for all children’s summer programs will be open

Tuesday, June 26th through Monday, July 2nd

So pick up a lottery registration form at our circulation desk or print one out at home. Don’t miss this opportunity to keep your child reading this summer and loving every minute of it. All free and waiting for you at the Pawling Library!

Last summer Pawling’s teens logged more hours reading than the kids or the adults. You can sign up in advance for the summer challenge at the library to start logging your reading hours. The challenge will run from June 23rd through August 17th.

There are plenty of fun activities, clubs, and classes available to teens at the library this summer! Stop in or call the library to sign up. For more info, please contact Ms. Kate at teen@pawlinglibrary.org.

Battle of the Books

Mid-Hudson Battle of the Books encourages a community of engaged middle-school-aged readers in our five-county region by introducing them to great books, authors, and their fellow readers in an atmosphere of friendly competition and good sportsmanship.

Read eight books and answer questions about them in trivia battle against other teams. The summer program culminates with a regional battle on September 8. Our team will meet every Wednesday 5:00-6:00 pm for practice.

Presentations find their way to us in a variety of ways. Last autumn, a kind gentleman by the name of Ron Steinman, donated many books to our library from his personal collection and during our meeting a conversation ensued. Ron Steinman’s career began with NBC News. He’ll be with us in June to talk about some of the highlights at NBC which span nearly four decades. He is the author of The Soldiers’ Story and A Saigon Journal: Inside Television’s First War.

We are pleased that these two very talented people from our community are making this contribution to our library. Both presentations will be as interesting as they are entertaining. We look forward to seeing you, our patrons, for these and our many other programs.
